

CUSHING-GAVIN AWARDS

"It is easy for all of us to be selfish, and to be anxious only about those things that touch our own life and fortune...We are discovering how very much we need each other, how much we depend on each other, how much we can learn from each other."

"Set out on that road tonight, and do not turn back. Do not go as labor or management, as employer or employee, but go as human persons who want a better world for the generations to come and are willing to work toward it."

- Richard Cardinal Cushing, 1967

Dear Members and Friends:

We are Back! Live and In-Person! The Labor Guild is pleased to announce our 55th annual Cushing - Gavin Awards Celebration.

On Friday, December 3, the Labor Guild will hold its 55th Cushing-Gavin Awards Celebration at the IBEW Local 103 function hall.

Once again, the Guild will be honoring four individuals, selected by previous award winners, that represent the best of their respective professions; people who have spent a lifetime honing and practicing their skills. Awardees will be selected based on their commitment to labor-management relations, professional competence, moral integrity, and concern for the community.

We are grateful that for 55 years the Labor Guild, as an agency of the Archdiocese of Boston, and with the blessing of the Catholic Church has been able to be a bridge for promoting good and just relations between Labor and Management. Our friends and membership comprise a broad-based representation of the labor relations community including academics, arbitrators, legal counsel, public agency staff, as well as management and union representatives.

The Labor Guild, at its core, is about respecting human dignity and advocating for economic and social justice. We are committed to inspiring and supporting men and women to act with conscience, know-how, and courage in labor-management relations.

This dinner is our most important fundraiser, and directly supports the Guild's mission.

Such a diverse membership enhances our spirit of solidarity in the acknowledgement that, within our various communities, there is a shared interest in promoting the common good and the Guild's mission of economic and social justice.

Cordially

*David Kowalski
Executive Director*
